Jeff Miller

“Following False Trails – Back to First Principles”

We are pleased to bring you - direct from Washington - live on our big screen!

Jeff Miller's analytical, management, and consulting accomplishments as an information technology professional taught him to conduct research while pursuing ill-defined goals, perfect training for a future genealogist.

He's a Past President of JGSGW (Washington, DC). Documenting his family's history for the past fourteen years, he's visited ancestral towns and villages throughout Lithuania and conducted research in archives. A special area of interest is finding relatives and organizing family reunions.

The meeting will be held on

Monday, March 04, 2013

7:30 pm

Gelber Conference Centre

5151 Cote Ste-Catherine/1 Carré Cummings
