The Jewish Presence During and After the Klondike Gold Rush 1898-1915

The Jewish Cultural Society of Yukon researched and gathered a significant amount of information that documents what sort of commerce, employment, and other activities the early Jewish citizens of Dawson City Yukon were involved in during the Gold Rush, and the significant impact of those people on North American society. Their presentation will tell the story of the finding and rededication of the Jewish Cemetery in Dawson City, creating and updating a new traveling display, and the biographies and stories of the amazing Jews that took part in the Klondike Gold Rush."
